ELIGIBILITY: Employees are eligible to enroll for disability benefits if they are in active employment in the United States with the Employer, in an eligible class, working the minimum number of hours per week as required under the Plan, and have satisfied the waiting period, if applicable. The waiting period means the continuous period of time (shown in each plan) that the employee must be in active employment in an eligible class before becoming eligible for coverage under a plan.

MONTHLY OR WEEKLY EARNINGS MEANS: The employee's gross monthly or weekly income from the Employer in effect just prior to the employee's date of disability. This includes the employee's total income before taxes and deductions made for pre-tax contributions to a qualified deferred compensation plan, Section 125 plan, or flexible spending account. It does not include income received from bonuses, overtime pay, any other extra compensation, or income received from sources other than the Employer.

ELIMINATION PERIOD: For LTD means a period of continuous disability, which must be satisfied before becoming eligible to receive benefits. For STD benefits commence period means a period of either continuous total disability or disabled and working which must be satisfied before becoming eligible to receive benefits. The elimination period begins on the first day of the employee's disability. Benefits begin the day after the elimination period is completed.

DEDUCTIBLE SOURCES OF INCOME: The amount of benefit the employee receives, or is eligible to receive, from Social Security, Workers' Compensation (if the plan covers occupational sickness or injuries), State Teachers Retirement System (STRS) or other sources as listed in the plan will be subtracted from employee's gross disability benefit.

LIMITATIONS & EXCLUSIONS

PRE-EXISTING CONDITIONS: If this limitation is included, no benefits are payable for disabilities that commence within 24 months for LTD coverage, and/or 12 months for STD coverage (other exclusion periods available) of the employee's effective date that are caused by, contributed to by, or resulting from a pre-existing condition, for which the employee received medical treatment, consultation, care or services, including diagnostic measures, or took prescribed drugs or medicines for the disabling condition in the 12 months just prior to their effective date. Some STD cases offer an optional Pre-existing Benefit paying 25% or 100% of the weekly benefit for up to 4 weeks. Please refer to your Certificate of Coverage for further information.
